Be warned: If you have a little one around, and you pop in the CD Insect Songs, you are likely to listen to it over and over and over.

You'll know every word to "Green Grasshopper (Hop! Hop! Hop!)" and learn all about "Battling Beetles." And you might even learn the "Itchy Itchy Flea" dance. These songs, written, produced, and sung by a Danville couple, teach kids about insects, but mostly they are just fun—and funny—lyrics, accompanying catchy tunes.

Singer Sandi Hunt (who recently wrapped a recording session with Rick "Super Freak" James) and her husband, soft rock artist Stephen Morgan, crossed over to kids' music about two years ago. The couple's CDs are available at Tower Records stores and at Sadie Ray's in Danville. You can catch them at Children's Fairyland in Oakland, July 12 and 13 at 12:30 p.m. Visit www.insectsongs.com for more information about live performances.
